4-H FORESTRY CAMP

The 4-H Forestry Camp held at Jamestown 4-H Camp, August 14-19 was attended by sixty-five boys from twenty-nine counties. Jimmy Martin represented Appomattox at the camp. Upon his return, he wrote the following letter to the Extension Staff:

"It was a real privilege for me to have attended along with 65 other 4-H boys, the first Virginia 4-H Forestry Camp at Jamestown this year. Boarding the bus at Appomattox, I met many boys from all over Virginia. We left around 1:00 P. M., Monday August 14 and arrived at camp around 7:00 P. M. As soon as we arrived we were well-fed and then enrolled in different groups. The four groups were the Hickories, Maples, Oaks and Pines, which are the most important trees in Virginia. We then had an assembly in the Recreation Hall and were introduced to our leaders and the program for the week. The whole week was filled with learning and recreation. During the week we attended classes on Forestry Development, Forestry Establishment, Forestry Measurements and Harvesting and Marketing. We also had optional classes to attend during the week.

I attended 'How to Give a Demonstration on Forestry, Killing Interior Hardwood, Growth and a monthly program for Forestry (county-wide). In the evening we were thrilled by many field trips, which we took to see some of the most beautiful pine stands I have ever seen. After field trips each day there was plenty of recreation from swimming, softball, horseshoe, basketball, football or if you were tired from the field trips, sleep or write letters. Some of the highlights of the program were, we attended the COMMON GLORY, seeing a film on colonial Virginia at the information center in Williamsburg, visiting the Chesapeake and Potomac Pulp and Paper Mill, a privately owned sawmill and a barebecue at the farm of a very successful forestry farmer. The last evening at camp around the camp-fire circle, challenges and contests added to our many wonderful experiences, at camp. I hope that everyone who is interested in Forestry might someday have the opportunity to attend this camp. Thank you. Jimmy Martin"
